IAAF Photo Finish Guidelines—April 2010

CHAMPIONSHIP PACKAGE FEATURES

A significant benefit of the Lynx Championship system is the addition of an IDENTLYNX:

- Full-frame video camera to aid in athlete identification. The images from the EtherLynx 2000 camera and the IDENTLYNX camera are synchronized and can be displayed side by side on the operator's computer screen for totally reliable results.
- The nine-digit display shows numerals and letters at a full 15cm tall - as big as some scoreboards twice the size, and it is clearly visible at more than 65 meters. It comes complete with an internal rechargeable battery, case, and a tripod.
